I think lots of people have question but are to shy to ask them but I dont know why sometimes people in class dont give us a chance to ask question and sometimes when you do ask a question and other people think it's really dum and you shouldn't be really asking that question they laugh or they pretend they are not laughing or give they nod there head at you and fell like dont feel asking a question in class ever again. Also the teachers dont sence that were dont fell good about aking a question that and sometimes they force us to ask that question and really dont want to do it in front of the class cause were not that confedent. Also i have seen other people telling other people from diffrent classes that they said this dum question.I dont feel that great aking questions in class .

people hardly ask questions in our classroom because the our to shy to.

Not everyone asks questions some people get a bit shy
